Wine Tasting - Can You Find the "Perfect" One?Adults Only

Calling all wine lovers! The grocery aisles are full of wines; how do you decide what to buy? Probably you just make a wild guess based on the label. The truth is, you can find great wines for less than $20. Let's taste and find out! Here's how this will go down: everyone brings a bottle of red or white wine from California, costing no more than $20. When you arrive, your bottle will be disguised in a nondescript wrapper and assigned a random number. Don't let price and appearance bias you - wines will be judged and scored on taste alone! Sample each wine in a fun atmosphere with plenty of tasty hors d'oeuvres and lively conversation. Write a score and tasting notes for each numbered bottle. You can try to sound like a seasoned oenophile and write about the "earthy tones" or "notes of tobacco and lingonberry" or you can just write "tastes like garbage" or "yum yum." At the end of what is sure to be an entertaining evening, the event organizers will tally up the scores and present the results. Find out once and for all which local wine is the best value as judged by you! But wait! It's not going to be that easy... the hosts will be donating a "perfect" 100 scored (by Wine Spectator or Robert Parker) California wine to offer a challenge...see if you can spot it! Max: 40
